

DEPUTATION TO SEEK GOVERNMENT AID FOR TERRITORIAL FORCES

Will Ask Asquith to Pay Officers' Allowances and a Bonus to Men and Their Employers.

SEEKS TO ABANDON VOLUNTEER SYSTEM

Daily Mail Says Deputation Means Confession of Failure of Present Service.

(Sun's W. A. P. Special Cable.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The whole question of the present and future state of the military system of the kingdom is involved in the decision of a deputation which will wait upon Rt. Hon. Mr. Asquith Wednesday and present a report upon the present condition and the prospects of the territorial forces and what they consider necessary amendment to the scheme. The deputation, which is seeking to popularize the force now being its usual establishment, proposes that the government should pay officers' allowances ranging from 15 to 20 pounds a year and pay the men bonuses ranging from 2 pounds to 10 shillings a week, with their insurance contributions paid by the state, with generous allowances for clothing and provisions, and with a preference for appointment to government posts for men who serve in the territories.

It is also suggested that the government should pay the employers a gratuity of 2 pounds for each territorial in their employ. The London Daily Mail, taking this memorial as the basis, makes a strong argument for the abandonment of the voluntary system, declaring that the terms of the memorial "form an unimpeachable confession of the failure of voluntary service."

It points out that with 250,000 territorial men the country, 1,750,000 pounds annually, 287,000 volunteers in 1911, before the territorial cost was 1,477,000 pounds, and the additional proposals will mean only an additional 1,000,000 pounds a year.

Thirty-Five Hindus Will Be Admitted; Orders Are Faulty

Chief Justice Hunter Rules that Orders-in-Council Are Weak and Will Release Hindus Held in Detention by Immigration Authorities—One Brown Man Escapes—Crowd Around Court House Shows Ugly Temper.

(Special to The Sun.)

VICTORIA, Nov. 24.—There was intense excitement among the Hindu population today when the thirty-eight Hindus in custody at the immigration hall were marched down to the law courts in charge of the immigration officers and eight policemen, four of them mounted constables.

The men were brought up in obedience to writs of habeas corpus obtained from the chief justice by Mr. J. E. Bird in Vancouver and counsel came over from the mainland on the afternoon boat to argue the question of these being made absolute before his lordship in the afternoon. The result of the legal fight was that thirty-five of the men are allowed to enter Canada, the fault being in the orders-in-council which have been passed to supplement the immigration act.

It was held by Chief Justice Hunter that the orders-in-council exceed the authority conferred by the statute and that they are therefore bad, but in addition to this he held that the orders of deportation were bad in that they did not specify the reasons for which several men were deported, merely ordering them out under a certain section of the act.

Orders Are Bad

Mr. Bird argued that the orders-in-council were bad because they compelled a man to have a specified sum of money in his actual and personal possession, whereas the statute said he must have it in his own right and because they called for continuous passage from India to Canada, which was not possible as there was no through line of steamers.

There was one brown man short when the men were marched down to the court. One of the gang got away from the detention shed in some way. It is thought that this man, Ditch Singh, took advantage of the changing of guards to slip out. He seems to have got a bar loose and shoved it aside enough to squeeze through and then slide down a pipe.

Four Must Return

As he is one of the men who have been admitted, the search for him has been dropped. Four men who were rejected by the immigration authorities for medical reasons, will be deported tomorrow on the Mexico Maru.

There was a crowd of a couple of hundred Hindus around the court house this afternoon while the argument was going on in the chief justice's room. They looked pretty threatening at times and the police were ready for trouble had the sentence been one of deportation, in which event it is not unlikely that the men might have got nasty. All morning small groups of Hindus were hanging about in the vicinity of the courts and they evidently had some wind of the application coming on this afternoon.

There are twenty more of these objectionable cases due here on Wednesday and presumably they will have to be allowed in.

LARKIN'S FIERY CRUSADE PROVES ABJECT FAILURE; CANNOT STAMPEDE UNIONS

Leader Fails to Arouse Enthusiasm in England and Is Neglecting Own Affairs.

(Sun's Special W. A. P. Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The fiery crusade of James Larkin, the Dublin ardent leader, has become a damp squib. He has failed to arouse any enthusiasm in the country for a national strike and is now indulging in a series of observations which can only be described as a series of failures.

it will continue until the date of the special labor conference on December 2.

The bulk of the English trades unionists leaders severely criticize Larkin's tyrannical domination of the leaders and give him the cold shoulder.

It is now proposed to further limit the Dublin strikers by a shutting a week until all Irish English trades unionists, who would not join Larkin, are out.

The Daily Express, the London daily, says that the Dublin strikers are now in a state of confusion and are being outmaneuvered by the English.

DOMINIONS WILL WANT TO EXERCISE CONTROL OVER EMPIRE AFFAIRS

Hon. Herbert Samuel Speaks of Attitude of Dominions Toward Liberalism and Imperial Policies.

SEPARATIST POLICY FOREIGN TO CANADA

Must Reconcile Imperial with Local Autonomy—Downing Street Feared.

(Sun's Special W. A. P. Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Postmaster General Samuel last night delivered an address to the political society of the National Liberal Club on "Liberalism and Imperial Policy," in course of which he declared that the old-time idea that Liberalism had business to have a policy in relation to the empire had been given go-by.

Liberalism today, he said, entertains the view that it was in the freedom of the dominions that the real strength of the empire existed and that a healthy free development of local national feeling, the result would not have reached its present greatness and would not be like the future which was before it. The idea of membership of the greatest political entity of the world had ever known made that material consideration accounted for the loyalty to the empire which undoubtedly prevailed throughout the dominions. Recently travelling through Canada he found not the smallest trace of any separatist feeling.

Is Powerful Agency

Liberalism could not ignore the empire and its problems, Mr. Samuel continued, even if they would be its existence and its internal development might be made the most powerful agency in the realization of great ideals.

With respect to international and domestic progress, the best
